To the Editor of The Evening World: A lady friend of crine asked me, When is a lady a woman? and I said, 'When she is married.' Am I right? Will you tell me, 'When is a lady a woman?' M. W. H. The term woman signifies sex. The information upon household matters, shopping, dress or any other question of special interest to the sex can obtain the same by addressing their requests to WOMEN'S QUESTIONS, meaning, signifies a woman of good breeding and family. It is the correla-tive of "gentleman," and originally meant the mistress of a house. A girl becomes a woman according to law at the age of twenty-one, or eighteen in

To the Editor of The Evening World:
Will you kindly tell me the different wedding anniversaries? Mine is the thirtieth, and I do not know the significance.
A. G. S. Your anniversary is the pearl. Here is the list of anniversaries: First, oot-ton; second, paper; third, leather; arth, wooden; seventh, woollen; tenth, tin; tweifth, linen; fiftsenth, crystal; wentieth, china; twenty-fifth, eliver; hirtieth, pearl; fortieth, ruby; fiftieth selden; seventy-fifth, diamond. Invitations.

To the Editor of The Evening World: Is it necessary to send a wedding sesent when your invitation inciudes one for the reception as well as the church. I am invited to a large wedding, and, although the bride is no friend of mine. I have known her a number of years. I really cannot afford a present. Shall I write her or what shall I do? ANNA F. JOHNSTONE.

It is necessary to acknowledge the wedding invitation, and, if you cannot afford a present, decline the invitation so long as you are invited to the reception, in the usual form.

Free Art Lessons. To the Editor of The Evening World:
I am a young woman elgisteen years old and have talent for drawing. Is there any school in New York where I can obtain good instruction at a public institution, free of charge? I live in Waterbury, Conn., but have friends in New York.

Fill the tumbler with water nearly to the brim. Stick the pencil, point first, into the spool and stand the spool by the glass. Trim the top of the pencil with your jackknife, so that top is a half inch higher than the rim of the tumbler.

from it cut a trangular piece with sides each two inches long. In each concer make a pin hole, and pass the and of a piece of thread through each bole. Now knot the other ends of the thread together.

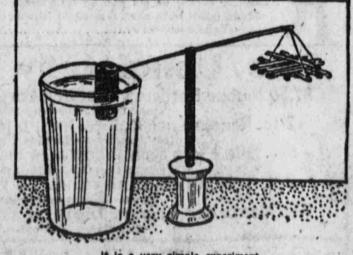

It is a very simple experiment.

Stick one end of your hatpin into the side of the cork mear the top, and lay the knitting needle across the top of the pencil, with the bottom of the cork mear in the glass. You would better have a line groove in the top of the pencil.

Chorus Girls' Pay. To the Editor of The Evening World:
I am seventeen years old and am considered pretty. I have a good soprano voice, and have been told I could make a good living on the stage in New York. Will you tell me what my chances are of getting a position in the chorus, and what salaries are paid?
EVELYN BARKER, South Amboy.
Unless you have decked talent and sion I would not advise you to come to New York to earn your living as a means of entry to a manager you will have to take your chances with the hundreds of other girls who appl; at the manager's office for positions or get their places through agencies.

Giving Photos.

To the Editor of The Evening World:

I am acquainted with a very nice young man who desires my photograph. Is it proper for me to give him a framed photograph for Christmas?

BELL HARRIS. Unless you are engaged to the young man it is not good form to give him framed photograph.

Glove Etiquette.

To the Editor of The Evening World:
In starting for the theatre the other evening the young man to whom I am engaged reproved me for putting on my gloves on the "L" train. We quarrelled and are no longer friends. Do you think he had the right to correct me? A. M. D.
It is certainly a breach of propriety to put on one's gloves in the street. One should finish the toilet before leav-ing the house. If the young man mentioned the fact in a gentlemanly manner for your own good you should har bor no ill-will against him.
